Dear prospective member,

I hope this letter finds you well. It is with great enthusiasm that I reach out to you today, inviting you to join our group here at the Restorative Justice APPG Advisory Board. I firmly believe that your participation can affect and shape RJ policy in the UK. Allow me to share with you three reasons why our group is the ideal place for individuals like you who are driven to make a positive impact:

1. Leaders in Raising Awareness:

We take immense pride in being recognised as one of the most successful All-Party Parliamentary Group (APPG) in Westminster when it comes to raising awareness. Our track record is a testament to our Advisory Board's commitment to shining a spotlight on the issues that matter. As a member, you will join a dynamic group that has consistently made a significant impact on public discourse. Your involvement will allow you to contribute to our legacy of creating change through raising awareness and advocacy.

2. The Pinnacle of Advisory Boards:

Our Advisory Board is not just active; it is one of the most active in Westminster. Comprising a diverse and accomplished group of experts, it serves as the engine driving our organisation's strength and influence. Your participation will grant you access to an environment where ideas are transformed into action. Your unique insights and skills will further enhance the dynamism of this group and play a key role in shaping our strategic direction.

3. A Year of Unprecedented Opportunity: Promoting Restorative Justice Ahead of an Election:

We are on the cusp of an exhilarating year, filled with opportunities that will define the path of our organisation. With an upcoming election, our mission to promote Restorative Justice takes on added significance. Restorative Justice represents a transformative approach to addressing societal issues, and your involvement will help ensure that it remains at the forefront of the political agenda. Joining us at this juncture allows you to be a driving force in a campaign that has the potential to reshape our nation's approach to justice.

Your participation is crucial as we embark on this exciting journey. As a self-funded group your work together with cross-party parliamentarians, will help deliver restorative justice and restorative practice throughout the UK.

I wholeheartedly encourage you to join us in our mission. Your expertise will undoubtedly enhance our collective capacity to make a lasting difference in our community and the nation.

Warm regards,
Elliot Colburn MP
